WES MONTGOMERY, SAMUEL BLASER QUARTET, WAYNE HORVITZ, JOHN PATITUCCI, JASON MARSALIS VIBES QUARTET (ALBUM REVIEWS)

August 14, 2015 by Doug Collette

Wayne Horvitz/Some Places Are Forever Afternoon (Songlines): Subtitled '11 Places for Richard Hugo,' this is a multimedia presentation of a sort, a glossy color booklet within the package featuring the poems that inspired the music accompanied by almost equally vivid photographs. The music stands on its own terms, as individual pieces and a collection, however, the material as carefully played as it is arranged. Still, not one iota of mechanical musicianship emanates from the septet so listening to this album in its entirety is akin to an aural time elapsed experience.